It All Began in the 1980s...

What started over four decades ago as a modest milling operation has grown into a legacy of purity, trust, and agricultural excellence.

Rooted in the fertile heartlands of Pakistan, our passion for the grain guided us through generations of hands-on expertise, mastering the art of sourcing and milling the finest Basmati and long-grain varieties.

By integrating modern processing plants, advanced optical color sorting, and rigorous quality standards, we expanded from local roots into a dependable global supplier.

Today, we stand as a trusted name in rice milling and international export delivering uncompromised aroma, grain length, and perfection to dining tables and B2B partners worldwide.
